William and Nancy Budd Scholarship Fund

2012 Annual Report

Highlights in 2012

- The major development of 2012 was the decision to hand over leadership of the Budd Fund to the next generation. At the Board meeting on August 6, 2012, the Board agreed to continue the Budd Fund rather than wind it down. Bill Budd was elected to succeed Daniel Ritchie as President and Emily Baillos to succeed Michael McCarthy as Treasurer. David Budd was elected to the Board as well. The Board agreed to a transition period during which Daniel and Michael would continue to manage the Fund's affairs and finance until the Budd family established new bank accounts and other hand-over arrangements.
- Ten new students were welcomed in 2012, one from each of the nine provinces in Kenya and one from the Kinyoro Primary School in the Trans Nzoia District of Western Province. The biographies of the new students are attached. With these new students, the Budd Fund has supported 114 students since inception in 2000.
- A total of 44 students were financed in 2012, 28 in secondary school and 16 in post secondary education—university level, technical training and teacher training. A list of the students supported in Forms 2-4 (10th grade through 12th grade) and post graduate studies, and the expenses for each student, are attached. The total is three less than in 2011.
- We contributed $20,000 to the NCKK Scholarship Program in 2012, the same amount as in 2011. Expenditures totaled Kshs. 677, 886 (about $8070) for secondary school scholarships, Kshs. 481,995 (about $5738) for post-secondary and 116,420 (about $1385) for administrative costs, including the student retreat in December 2012.
- The average cost per student in 2012 was $288 for secondary school, the same as last year but down from about $400 in 2010, probably reflecting the government's commitment to make secondary education free over time. The average payment for post-secondary was $358, slightly less than the average of $400 in 2011.

- Student achievement continued to be outstanding. The 2008 cohort of students sat from their secondary school exams in 2012. The results are shown in the table below. Grades or A to B- means eligibility to pursue higher education.
